

It'll all sort out in the end

Jody Azzouni

Originally published in Purple Patch 103, 2002
© 2002 Jody Azzouni

Tenaciously walnut, the throatless dead still demand justice. We tattoo books with their history; supply blunt instruments, bright posters, sheep for guides.

Scrutinize snow for messages.
Wait your turn (find a line
if you can). Weather

keeps no promises.